Haggai

C1-2

C1. Clearly, the prophet is post-exotic. People are living in Judah. They in fact, are doing extremely well. However, they have delayed concerning the house of The Lord. This should place to rest anyone who believes that a place of worship is not important other than a gathering place. No doubt today believers are the body. But whatever or wherever they gather should be representative of the God they serve.

It is accurate that because of the condition of the Lord's place, they were still suffering (6).

This writer treads carefully here unless we perceive buildings to be equivalent with God. The condition of the building was actually representative of their hearts. Service at the temple was tantamount to serving The Lord at that time. They wrote encouraged to go to work. What a difference.

C2. It is only remnant. They have been devastated with all of the silver and gold stripped from the temple. Nevertheless, once they laid the foundation if the temple their act of obedience was met with favor (18). And blessing for a nation mean blessings for people. Because Zerrubabel the governor listened and responded, "favor."(23).
