2 Thessalonians

2 Thessalonians

C1-3

C1 Vss 1-12. Paul recognizes the persecution they are enduring. They are yet holding fast. Paul share a reality. Those persecuting the church will not get away with it. It is so true.

Biblical history prices Paul's position. Many kingdoms rose and fall, but God's people persevere. He encourages them that The Lord has rest for them. Comparatively, the persecutors are doomed to eternal damnation.

Jesus' returns in His glory but it is also a time of victory for all believers. They share in the Lord's conquest (1-12).

C2 Vss 1-17 Some are saying The Lord has come and gone. He gives the indicators to help believers: 1. There must be a great rebellion against God (by persons in the church). Apostasia (Apostasy) is the word here. So first this must occur, and this writer believes this happens over time and is not a sinful fulmar event. 2. They are to look for a person or agency that exalts itself higher than The Lord. He will claim to be God himself. This provides believers with information they did not have before .

There 'a no question the time is close today. The church is a degraded operation for countless numbers of people. It is overcome by scandal. The technologies are in place to Monitor and control every being on the earth. He calls believers to stand strong.

C3 Vss 1-17 Paul calls on them for prayer. Believers must always remember that other believers are in great need. He asks to be guided around persons with evil intent. It has the sense that persons presenting themselves as believers have evil intent.

Paul calls on them to stay away from the lazy and to imitate them. Again he reminds them that they paid nothing for his service. He was not a burden to them.

And a great word for every believer. Never get tired of doing what is right. Paul is concerned about every believer's tenacity for the faith. When humans are best and discouraged they are ready to quit. It is natural.
